Dear Parents / Guardians of students in grades Pre-K and Kindergarten:

You have all read the headlines and seen the news stories: food allergies are a growing concern in schools across America. Millions of children must watch every single bite they eat, or risk suffering a severe or even life threatening reaction. People can be allergic to practically any food, but 90% of the foods that they are allergic to fall under the 8 most common allergens: peanut, tree nut, milk, egg, soy, wheat, fish and shellfish.

A major health issue such as this must be taken very seriously, and it has always been the policy of this school to make the safety and well being of our students our top priority.

Therefore, we are putting the following safety guidelines into effect:

- Please do not send any peanuts/tree nuts, peanut butter, Nutella or foods containing these ingredients to be eaten as snacks in the classroom. It is fine to send these products for lunch, which are consumed in the cafeteria.
- Birthday and holiday celebrations are special times for children, but can be a difficult time for the food-allergic child. Therefore due to the severity of some of our allergies, we are no longer allowing birthday treats at the pre-k or kindergarten levels. We are asking that parents please consider providing non-food items such as pencils or books for birthday celebrations. This was very successful for many of our children last year. Parents of students in grades Pre-K and Kindergarten may also consider the opportunity to come into the classroom with a book that they will read to the class and in the end parents may donate this book to the classroom library if they choose to. This must be worked out with the homeroom teacher ahead of time.

We trust that you understand how deeply important it is to respect and adhere to these guidelines. If throughout the course of the year you have any questions or concerns about food-allergy-related issues, please do not hesitate to contact either one of us.

Wishing you and your family a safe and healthy school year.
